Blowing from Guns at Peshawur.

A letter from Peshawur, in Blackwood for November, has the following: It was an awfully imposing scene! All the troops, and natives, armed and disarmed, loyal and disaffected, were drawn up on parade, forming three sides of a square, and drawn up very carefully, you may be sure, so that any attempt on the part of the disaffected to rescue the Forming the fourth side of the square were drawn up the guns, (9 pounders,) ten in number, which were to be used for the execution. The prisoners, under a strong European guard, were then marched into the squaretheir crimes and sentences read aloud to them, and at the head of each regiment; they were then marched around the square, and up to the guns. The first ten were zles, and their arms fastened to the wheels. The portjor, the guns were fired. It was a horrid sight that then met the eye; a regular shower of human fragments of that extensive, well-known, and valuable property, known as the HIGH SHOALS, embracing about FIFTEEN heads, of arms, of legs, appeared in the air through the smoke, and when that cleared away, these fragments by mained of those ten mutineers. Three times more was this scene repeated; but so great is the disgust we feel no room in our hearts for any feeling or pity; perfect callousness was depicted on every European's face; a look of grim satisfaction could even be seen in the countenances of the gunners serving the guns. But far different was the effect on the native portion of the spectators; their black faces grew ghastly pale as they gazed breathlessly at the awful spectacle. You must know that this is nearly the only form in which death has any List of Appointments of the N. C. M. E. Conference terror for a native. If he is hung, or shot by musketry, he knows that his friends or relatives will be allowed that his remains will be decently interred, as directed in the Koran. But if sentenced to death in this form, he pieces, and that it will be altogether impossible for his relatives, however devoted to him, to be sure of picking up all the fragments of his own particular body; and the religion to himself might possibly be burned or buried with the remainder of his own body in agony to him.-But notwithstanding this, it was impossible for the mutineers' direct hater not to feel some degree or admiration for the way in which they met their deaths. Nothing in their lives became them like the leaving of them

· The Ransomed. BY GEN. WM. T. HASKELL, OF MEMPHIS, TENN. Lines suggested by my restoration to health from recent physical debility and mental distraction.

Note.-These lines are respectfully and affectionately edicated to Mrs. Louisa Jane Rice, the amiable and gentle hearted and accomplished matron of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane at Lexington, by an attached friend, who will never forget her tenderness and ministering care when the pathway of life was very dark to him. She will reap her reward in the "land of the hereafter."

Lexington Asylum, Nov. 20, 1857.

PART I. I'm adrift on life's ocean, and wildly I sweep, Aimless and helmless, its fathomless deep, The wild winds assail me, it threateningly storms, The clouds roll around me in hideous forms I drift to a lee-shore! I strike! I am aground! The mad waters 'whelm me—I drown! oh, I drown! Mercy, oh, mercy! oh, Lord, set me free,

And take me, oh, take me, to Heaven and Thee. I wander life's desert, lone, desolate, sad, Faint, reeling, and weary—I'm mad! oh, I'm mad No glad waters greet me, no streams flowing free, perish! I perish! Oh God! set me free. Ah! hopeless I pray Thee, 'tis idle an vain, I perish! I perish! Rain—rain—give me rain, Let the stream of deliverance flow gently to me, And drift me, oh! drift me to Heaven and Thee.

'Mid the wranglings of men and their conflicts so fierce Half mad and despairing, my lips spit a curse, Instead of imploring a Refuge, and Peace, From Life's maddening battle, for Hope and Release, I bear on defiantly, proud, reckless, unblanched, At the dangers that hem me—the curses I launched At Earth and at Heaven, Lord! mercy for me, Receive me! receive me! to Heaven and Thee.

But the storm howls no longer, the desert is gone, The battle's fierce strife no more hurries me on, The tempests no more lash the ocean's calm breast, And the clouds float in beauty far to the West, I move through Life's bowers full of bliss and of love. Looking fondly to Earth, and with transport above, And an angel soft whispers, "The Lord sets thee free. To come to me! come to me! dwell here with me!"

I thank Thee, oh Lord! that my raving career Was checked by the hand of Omnipotence, here, That struck from its jarred equilibrium the mind Whose balance my madness and folly combined Had periled fore'er in my earthly career, While night's thick'ning darkness encompassed me here, And my sad soul is ransomed, unprisoned and free, I am coming, oh, Lord! I bow gently to Thee. Joy! joy! Oh! anguish and sorrow no more Shall lead me, its victim, on Life's Crumbling shore, The winds waft me gently, I perish no more, I thirst not, the war of Life's struggle is o'er, Hope beckons me on, with its sweet, whispering tale, To walk through, all hopefully, Life's pleasant vale,

Meeting of the Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge of Ancient York Masons of North-Carolina was in session, in this City, during the present week. The representation of delegates was quite a full one; and we understand their proceeding have been marked by the utmost harmony and good feeling. On Wednesday evening provision was made to liquidate the debt of $14,000 with which the Trustees of St. John's College have been embarrassed; and the prospect seems to be that that institution will be in operation at no distant day. It is said to be one of the finest buildings in the State, and it is most eligibly located. This debt had already been provided for by subscriptions; but being contingent, they are not now available. but will ultimately become so, when they will be applied to the college fund as an endowment. The session was brought to a close on Thursday evening. The following are the officers elect for the ensuing

U. S. Circuit Court. The tribunal, Mr. Justice Wayne presiding, virtually closed its session on Thursday last, after disposing of all the cases ready for trial on the several dockets. On Wednesday, the case of Edmund Wilkins of Northampton vs. the Schooner Alexiana, in Admiralty, was argued by Messrs. Badger, Bryan, Miller and Gilliam for the libellant, and Messrs. Moore and W. A. Wright for the defendant. His Honor on Thursday morning delivered a decree in favor of the libellant, awarding damages, interest and costs.

The District Attorney, with whom was associated Mr. Busbee, announced his readiness to try the several cases of the United States vs. John G. Gully. Messrs. Badger and Miller, the defendant's council, moved for a continuance, and, upon affidavit, the Court continued the case until next Term.

The spacial Agent of the Government, S. G. Dodge, Esq., has been indefatigable in investigating and preparing these cases for trial. Some two or three days after his arrival here, the defendant was arrested; and such was the activity of the Government Agent, that in ten cases indictments were found, and the evidence sufficiently collected to enable the Counsel for the Government to press for a trial.

The defendant, Gully, being required to give bail in the sum of $15,000, and failing, was committed. On Thursday, Jas. K. Marriott, Esq., of this City, was appointed by Judge Wayne U. S. Commissioner.

Raleigh Standard. The University. The annual meeting of the Board of Trustess of the University of North Carolina was held in the Executive Office, in this City, on Monday last-present, His Excellency Gov. Bragg, President Swain, and Messrs. Charles Manly, R. M. Saunders, William Eaton, jr., John H. Bryan, Charles L. Hinton ,D. W. Courts, and W. W.

The annual report of the Secretary and Treasurer, Gov. Manly, was submitted, presenting a full and satisfactory exhibit of the financial condition of the Univer-A number of letters and testimonials were read, setting forth the qualifications and claims of persons who are applicants for the Professorship of Chemistry and Geology, made vacant by the death of Dr. Mitchell .-But after reading these, and after some conversation on the subject, it was unanimously determined to postpone the appointment to this Professorship until Monday the 4th day of next month, when it is hoped and believed a larger number of Trustees will be in attendance. Raleigh Standard. Congress... Wednesday, Dec. 9. SENATE.—The Chair laid before the Senate the annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury on the state of the financies; also, two reports from the Secretary of State-one showing the disbursements of that department during the last fiscal year, and the other showing the number of the American seamen registered in the several ports of entry of the United States during the year ending September 30, 1857. Mr. Gwin presented sundry joint resolutions of the legislature of California, and also gave notice of his intention to introduce a Pacific-railroad bill, and a bill to organize the Territory of Arizona. Mr. Douglas spoke at considerable length in review of the present aspect of the Kansas question, and the views expressed thereon in the President's message --

Messrs. Bigler and Mason addressed the Senate on the same topic. The further consideration of the subject was postponed until Monday next; and, after an executive session, the Senate adjourned. House of Representatives.—The consideration of Mr. Houston's resolution to proceed to the election of a printer for the House of Representaives for the Thirtyfifth Congress was resumed. The substitute of Mr. Smith, of Virginia, appointing a special committee to ingestigate the subject of the printing of Congress, was decided in the negative; when Mr. Houston's resolution was adopted. A proviso is appended to the resolution reserving the right of Congress to modify the existing laws on this subject as it may see proper. Mr. Chas. B. House of Representaives.—A communication was received from the Secretary of War, stating that the usual appropriation for the manufacture of arms was omitted by some mistake from the appropriation bill passed by the last Congress, and requesting that an act be passed as soon as possible making the correction.— Also, another communication announcing that the new hall was ready for the use of the House of Representatives. On motion, the Speaker was authorized to appoint the standing committees. Mr. Dowdell, of Ala bama, introduced a resolution that the ministers of the Gospel in this city be requested to open the daily sessions of the House with prayer, "without compensation." On Mr. Stephens's motion this clause was struck out, and the resolution adopted. A resolution was also adopted that the extra copies of documents printed by order of the last Congress be delivered to the members of the present The House than adjourned to Monday next .- Union.

Further from the Utah Expedition. St. Louis, Dec. 8.—The letter from the Utah expedition received by the Republican, the main points of which were telegraphed this morning, states that Col. Cook's command, comprising the 10th regiment of infantry, was at a point 150 miles west of Fort Laramie on the 3d of November. Thus far the traveling had been easy and pleasant, but the weather had become colder. Provisions were getting scarce, the provender giving out, and it is now apparent that great hardships were before them. Still, notwithstanding the threats received from Salt Lake City, the entire army would proceed as rapidly as the elements and the supply of food would permit to the winter quarters marked out by Col. A. S. Johnson, the commander of the expedition, on the Honey Forks of Green river. It was rumored that A lady, who was very modest and submissive before Brigham Young intends to fight the troops this winter
